J.R. BRUNO & ASSOCIATES HOSTS THE SBA'S MARK QUINN, SAN FRANCISCO
DISTRICT DIRECTOR AND ACTING REGION IX DIRECTOR AT JRB'S
NEW SAN FRANCISCO HEADQUARTERS

SAN FRANCISCO (JULY 2010) – J.R. Bruno & Associates played host to the SBA's Mark Quinn, San Francisco District Director and Acting Region IX Director, when he visited the firm's new headquarters in San Francisco's historic Flood Building at 870 Market Street. J.R. Bruno, a leading nationwide consultant to business lenders since 1995, recently re-located from its Southern California headquarters. Joining Quinn and J.R. Bruno President Joanna Bruno were JRB's Consulting Team, who came from as far away as the firm's Boston office to celebrate the new headquarters and meet with Quinn.

“J.R. Bruno's relocation gives Northern California financial institutions greater opportunity to take advantage of the firm's expertise in SBA lending. Joanna Bruno and her team play an important role in educating and providing vital services to SBA lenders,” said Quinn.

“We were honored by Mark Quinn's visit and the opportunity to discuss the need for funding among small businesses, the advantages of SBA loans and the necessity for lenders to have access to business lending expertise,” said Bruno. “We're seeing many lenders who left the program and are re-entering, but for one reason or another have lost the expertise so critical to successful SBA programs. Mark Quinn's unique perspective – from the District and national standpoints – gave us additional insight into ways we can continue to serve the business lending community.”
